

Yes, there is too much violence on TV. Even when I select non-violent programs, I am exposed to pre-views and advertisements for other shows and films that are shockingly violent. I object to having a gun pointed at my face in my own living room.